FROM THE CHAIRMAN'S DESK

H.K. Chaudhary
Chairman
BRCM Education Society

It is a matter of pride that BRCM Education Society has successfully completed 27 year of its Journey. During past 27 years, the BRCM Group of Institutions has created an environment and ambience that fosters learning for higher peaks of excellence. It gives me great satisfaction that BRCM Institutions are progressing in all its endeavors towards balanced development of all attributes of personality of our students for better service to the Nation.

We have recently celebrated Annual Days of various Institutions under BRCM Education Society and this issue of Samagra Shiksha highlights various glimpses of these functions held from 27th September 2014 to 4th October 2014 apart from other Cultural Programmes.

I thank to entire team of BRCM for their continued support to achieve excellence and for making “Samagra Shiksha” as a face of BRCM Group of Institutions.

FROM THE DIRECTOR’S DESK

Dr. S.K. Sinha
Director
BRCM Education Society

It gives me immense pleasure to know that BRCM Education Society is going to publish VIII issue of “Samagra Shiksha”- the quarterly Newsletter of BRCM Group of Institutions. BRCM is committed in achieving its mission of transforming Bahal into an Education Hub through its Educational Ventures by enriching the talent & resources of youth of Haryana & whole of Nation.

This issue covers the Annual Day Functions of various Institutions managed by BRCM Education Society and other Cultural Programmes which were celebrated with enthusiasm and great zeal from 27th September 2014 to 4th October 2014. I congratulate all Heads of the Institutions, staff members and students for making all the functions a grand success. I extend my sincere thanks to all the Heads of the Institutions and other staff members for their support in bringing out this issue of “Samagra Shiksha”.

Congratulations…

Nobel Peace Prize Winners 2014

Kalash Satyarthi is an Indian children's rights activist. He has been active in the Indian movement against child labour since 1990. So far his organization, Bachpan Bachao Andolan, has freed over 80,000 children from various forms of servitude and helped in successful re-integration, rehabilitation and education.

The young Pakistani teenager girl Malala Yousafzai, a young Pakistani Girl and education activist, who was shot in the head and neck in an assassination attempt by Taliban gunmen while returning home on a school bus in 2012, by unknown Taliban gunmen when she was advocating for women right to receive education in her country.
Kailash Satyarthi is an Indian children's rights activist and a Nobel Peace Prize Laureate. He founded the Bachpan Bachao Andolan (Save the Childhood Movement) in 1980 and has acted to protect the rights of more than 83,000 children from 144 countries.

He has been awarded the 2014 Nobel Peace Prize jointly with Malala Yousafzai "for their struggle against the suppression of children and young people and for the right of all children to education."

Kailash Satyarthi was born on 11 January 1954 in the Vidisha district of Madhya Pradesh. He completed his degree in electrical engineering in Vidisha and then pursued postgraduate studies in high-voltage engineering. He then joined a college in Bhopal as a lecturer for a few years.

In 1980, he gave up his career as a teacher and became secretary general for the Bonded Labor Liberation Front; he also founded the Bachpan Bachao Andolan (Save the Childhood Mission) that year. He has also been involved with the Global March Against Child Labor and its international advocacy body, the International Center on Child Labor and Education (ICCLE), which are worldwide coalitions of NGOs, teachers and trade unionists. He has also served as the President of the Global Campaign for Education, from its inception in 1999 to 2011, having been one of its four founders alongside ActionAid, Oxfam and Education International.

In addition, he established Rugmark (now known as Goodweave) as the first voluntary labelling, monitoring and certification system of rugs manufactured without the use of child-labour in South Asia. This latter organisation operated a campaign in Europe and the United States in the late 1980s and early 1990s with the intent of raising consumer awareness of the issues relating to the accountability of global corporations with regard to socially responsible consumerism and trade. Satyarthi has highlighted child labor as a human rights issue as well as a welfare matter and charitable cause. He has argued that it perpetuates poverty, unemployment, illiteracy, population growth, and other social problems, and his claims have been supported by several studies. He has also had a role in linking the movement against child labour with efforts for achieving "Education for All". He has been a member of a UNESCO body established to examine this and has been on the board of the Fast Track Initiative (now known as the Global Partnership for Education). Satyarthi serves on the board and committee of several international organisations including the Center for Victims of Torture (USA), the International Labor Rights Fund (USA), and the International Cocoa Foundation. He is now reportedly working on bringing child labour and slavery into the post-2015 development agenda for the United Nation’s Millennium Development Goals.

Satyarthi, along with Pakistani activist Malala Yousufzai, has been awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 2014 “for their struggle against the suppression of children and young people and for the right of all children to education. Satyarthi is the fifth Nobel Prize winner for India and only the second Indian winner of the Nobel Peace Prize after Mother Teresa in 1979.

Satyarthi lives in New Delhi, India. His family includes his wife, a son, daughter-in-law, and a daughter. Apart from his social activities, he has been described as an excellent cook.

The students reached Orlando via Newark on 25 Sep 2014 and next two days were devoted to the workshop on ‘Space Engineering’ at Kennedy Space Centre, Orlando. On the first day of the workshop, they were taken to Apollo Saturn V Centre. The Saturn V was a rocket which was designed to be launched by Apollo 11. They were explained about the various stages of launching of a rocket. Next day, students were taken inside the ‘Discovery’ space shuttle to show the experimental controls and monitoring module and also basics of space science including personal challenges faced during the flight in space viz-space food, bathing, toilet etc. Students were also given some hands on experience on various simulators required for training of astronauts - T-simulator, micro gravity, multi axis rotating simulator. The students also had an opportunity to meet a Space Shuttle Astronaut Sam Durrance. They interacted with the astronaut over a lavish American lunch and also had a group photograph with him.

In Orlando, the students also visited Disney Magic Kingdom. Magic Kingdom was divided into different parts like Adventure land, Frontier land, Fantasy land, Tomorrow land, Liberty square. Here the children enjoyed thoroughly different rides and depiction of various Disney characters in a very interesting manner. 3D film & Space maze were highpoints of the park. The children waited eagerly for the famous Disney Parade & saw various Disney characters dancing on the music during the parade & were thrilled. The other place of visit were Universal Studios where they enjoyed the breath taking rides like HULK, Roller Coaster, Spiderman 3D IMAX, Jurassic Park ride, water rides, Harry Potter ride was especially liked & enjoyed by the students. The experience helped the children to overcome anxiety & fear of heights & high speed motion.

The other places of visit were Niagara Falls where they had a ride in the “Maid of Mist”, a visit to MIT & Harvard University which is the dream of every student to be in for their advanced education. At MIT students attended one day workshop on ‘Robotics’ and also saw a museum on prototype of various Robots. Afterwards students went to Harvard University campus and got an opportunity to meet and interact with some of the faculty of these universities and the students. It was highly motivating visit to these Universities for the students. On the next day, the students visited the ‘Empire State Building’, Rockefeller Centre, Statue of Liberty in a ferry and “Times Square” that represented the lifestyle of USA. The entire trip was very informative, educative and enjoyable. On landing to IGI New Delhi back home, the group was welcomed by the parents by presenting bouquets, sweets & garlands.
